One of the things that we lack in the teaching of our young people in today's society is how to get the most from your money and how to be financially fit. Most of our schools do not broach the subject and parents usually try to avoid getting into their financial affairs with their children. We hear every day on television or in the magazines how valuable fitness is to our overall health and well-being. Every single person out there also needs to pay attention to their financial well-being, as well. I have always told my children, "If you can save money on the things that you NEED to purchase, such as your household bills and expenses, than that leaves more money for what you WANT to buy, or to put some in the bank for a rainy day." You never know what is coming in your future.

The author in his extensive sales and management career (35 years and counting), at various times, has been a: Loan Officer, Automobile Sales and Finance person, Florida Life and Health Insurance Agent, Notary, Florida Real Estate Agent, My point in telling you this is not to blow my own horn, but to tell you that I have been heavily involved, behind the scenes, in various forms of negotiations, finance and contractual obligations throughout my career and my personal life. In this book, I try to bring some information out to the reader and possible scenarios to consider. It's not necessarily fun reading, but it is extremely important

The internet is an incredible force in today's society. Many times I have wished back twenty or thirty years ago that I had the vast amount of resource material and information out there, but always be wary. Make sure you use reputable sites. There is a lot of biased and misinformation spread around on the internet also. Don't be misled.

GOOD LUCK, GOOD SAVING AND GOD BLESS !
